An amusing incident occurred in the police station early yesterday morning, when Thomas L. Williams, a lodger, was awakened by the officer in charge. When the man awoke he requested that a call be put on the slate for him for 4 o'clock. When the hour arrived he was aroused, and asked what time it was. "Well, I'm too sleepy to get up now, so please don't disturb me until 6 o'clock," he said. Lieutenant Williams learned that his namesake was a Welshman, awakened him, and to his surprise also learned that his prisoner was from the same town in Wales as himself. The stranger was formerly a resident of Portville.

BARBER SHOPS WILL CLOSE.

The proprietors of the various barber shops in West Scranton have entered into an agreement to close their places of business all day on July 4, and will keep open the night before until midnight. Tony Minnetti, the Scranton street merchant, rents a part of his dwelling house to the family of Joseph Walters, and yesterday Mrs. Minnetti and Mrs. Walters engaged in a quarrel, which resulted in the latter striking the former with a club, fracturing her arm.

Alderman Kelly issued a warrant for Mrs. Walters against the charge of assault and battery, and when the alderman ordered Deputy Constable Jacobs to take her to the county jail in default of $300 bail, she refused to recognize the deputy's authority. Constable Timothy Jones was appealed to, and the woman was permitted to return to her home with Jones, after promising to furnish bail this morning.

"How long have you known Everhart," asked Attorney Ballentine. "About ten years," was answered. "Were you on intimate terms with him?" asked the counsel for the defense. "Why yes, we were intimate."

LEWIS HESITATED.

The witness hesitated here, and on being pushed to the point said that previous to Saturday night's meeting he had not seen Everhart for quite a long period.

"How long?" was asked, and Lewis finally admitted that it was possibly five months.

William Horn, of North Scranton, son of the proprietor of Horn's hotel, in which Everhart and Lewis had had frequent consultations, was then called to the stand, and testified to carrying a note to Lewis yesterday morning from Everhart, and carrying back one in return. Two pieces of crumpled paper were put into evidence, which purported to be the two communications.

The one read "Meet me at 2 o'clock at Horn's hotel. Signed 'Mud.'" Lewis' answer was to the effect that he would meet him at 9.30 o'clock at the Delaware and Hudson station, and signified that "the party was in town," there being an understanding that previously in the week Dr. Everhart was not in the city.

"The commonwealth rests here," said Attorney O'Brien, after the counsel for the defense had finished the cross-examination of the witness. "We ask, he continued, 'that ball be fixed in this case, commensurate with the enormity of the crime.'"

"It is just for it to be commensurate," said Attorney Ballentine, but two points on his being exorbitant. Attorney O'Brien suggested that the ball be fixed at a sum not less than $5,000, and Alderman Kasson then placed it at that figure.

NOTHING TO SAY.

Mr. Everhart, when seen by a Tribune man, was very reticent. He maintained a sullen silence, and when asked what he had to say regarding the charge said:

"At present I have nothing to say; nothing whatever. Investigation by a Tribune reporter corroborated Lewis in all of his statements, namely, that Everhart went to the Turkish bath Monday night, with the presumed purpose, as he himself stated it, to establish an alibi. The attaché of the bath, who attended to him said he came in Monday night about 9.30 or 9.45 o'clock, and after taking a bath went to bed, saying he would rest for a few hours and then go home. He did not get up till 8 o'clock in the morning. He was very drunk, but further than that nothing is recalled of his condition or demeanor.

HEARING IN THE RINSLAND CASE

While Everhart was being detained in Detective Barring's office, awaiting a hearing before the alderman, a morbid crowd thronged the arbitration room to hear the cross-examination of the witnesses in the $15,000 damage suit which Phil Rinsland is prosecuting against Everhart for alienating his former wife's affections.

Miss M. E. Rinsland, sister of the plaintiff, was the only important witness. Miss Rinsland stated that her friend Hooley waited on Phil Rinsland last March and asked him to consent to his wife and sister accompanying him to New York, where he was going on a business trip, and where, incidentally, he expected to meet a party of New England relatives, among whom would be a number of ladies. Phil said that as long as his wife was to go along, he saw nothing wrong in it, and gave the consent.

She then went on to relate at length what took place in the three different hotels at which they stopped. Everhart met them in New York the first day and stayed with them during their week's sojourn. At the St. Cloud hotel Everhart and Mrs. Rinsland occupied the same room and together, en dishabille, came in for a chat to the adjoining room occupied by the witness.

Proprietor Horn, of the Green Ridge hotel, where Everhart seems to have established headquarters, was called to tell of carousals there in which Everhart, Mrs. Rinsland and Miss Rinsland figured, but could not recall any such incidents.

The hearing was to have been continued in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, but the news of Everhart's arrest caused Mr. Burns to question the expediency of proceeding further with the defense, and on that motion the case went over till next Tuesday.

OBITUARY.

William McTigue, of Cherry street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McTigue, died at 7 o'clock last evening at the Lackawanna hospital, where he had been taken Sunday, June 17, to undergo an operation for appendicitis. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Mme. A. Ruppert's World Renowned Face Bleach

No matter how Bleached the Skin, Face Bleach will make it perfect

Madame A. Ruppert says: "I know there are many ladies who would like to try the merits of my Face Bleach, but on account of the price, which is $2.00 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.00, I have had some hesitancy in spending that amount to convince themselves of its great value. Therefore, during this month, I will depart from my usual custom and offer a trial bottle, sufficient to show that it is all that I claim for it for 25 cents per bottle. Any reader of this can send me a note, and I will send them a trial bottle of my world-renowned Face Bleach, securely packed in plain wrapping, so that no one will know it is a trial bottle. To test so freely a remedy at so slight a cost is seldom offered, and I trust that the readers of this will take advantage of it at once, as the offer may not be repeated."

Madame A. Ruppert has now been before the public for over twenty years as the greatest complexion specialist. She is the pioneer in her art, and stands prominently at the head of the complexion specialists of imitators, but not a single competitor. Face Bleach is not a new untried remedy, but a well tried, tested, and stamped for years and used for dissolving and removing tan, sunburn, moth, freckles, and all other blemishes, eczema, pimples, roughness or redness of the skin, and for brightening and softening the complexion. It has no equal.

It is Absolutely Harmless to the most delicate complexion.

The marvelous improvement after a few applications is most apparent for the skin becomes as nature intended it should be. SMOOTH, CLEAR AND WHITE, free from every impurity and blemish. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy for all skin troubles. This is the only thorough and permanent cure.

For the present I will, as stated above, send a trial bottle of my Face Bleach to anyone who will remit me 25 cents in stamps or silver. Madame A. Ruppert's book, "How to be Beautiful," which contains many points of interest to all ladies, will be mailed free upon application.
